

The World Union of Professions
UMPL

The liberal professions are present in numerous fields such as

- the health sector
- the legal sector
- the technical professions (engineers, architects, experts ...)
- the financial sector (accountants, auditors ...)
- etc.

Count millions of persons worldwide

UMPL , founded in 1987 with headquarters in Paris, is an international nongovernmental organization

Active membership is open to:

- national and multinational interprofessional organizations
- international single-profession organizations of liberal professionals

UMPL has also associate, corresponding and observing members

The World Union aims to

- promote the image and influence of the organizations representing the liberal professions;
- ensure rapid full exchange of information concerning the common problems confronting the liberal professions on the national, bilateral or multilateral levels;
- represent the liberal professions at intergovernmental organizations;

The World Union aims to

- obtain the means required to promote the human values and virtues that liberal professions traditionally defend;
- assist and support liberal professions who want to organize themselves or are in difficulties
- establish and maintain intercultural dialogue, in its capacity as a stalwart in civil dialogue at all levels